“ Haven't had a lot to say but the stern study hand and guidance my father has given me is all I ever needed. I remember being told as a small child that a Sheeley is strong and does not cry. Though this truly is not the case but I did what was asked of me and stayed true to his wishes thus far. You will truly be missed and have asked everything I needed to know and have tried to learn. Your work here may be done but I still have chores to do but will meet you when my chores are done.
