“ Ron and family I am so sorry for your loss.Susan was a wonderful,loving person.She was the best nurse at this hospital.My son had surgery when younger and she was there to rock him,carry him to restroom and to the car.When no one else would stay in room with him.Due to him screaming and him with ADHD made it worse they walked out and I have thanked God for bringing such a loving person,nurse to us all these years at this hospital,I have never forgot what she did for my son and any of my family when they was in hospital.It wasn't the same without her there.Everytime I saw Susan she would give me a hug.She loved her family so much.If you need anything please call.

“ Ron and family, I am so sorry to hear about the loss of your dear wife, mother & grandmother. Susan was a very special person always willing to give of herself for someone else. She was a rock and inspiration to me during my bout with breast cancer. We are all joined together by a bond in the "sisterhood" of survivors. Altho I haven't seen much of Susan in the past year or so I kept up with her and said a prayer for her along with all the other "sisters." May God reach out and comfort you in you time of grief. Remember she is safe in the arms of her Saviour now and is not longer suffering and in pain. May God bless each one of you who are grieving for this special lady. Jean & Curtis Billings

I miss my Aunt Susan more than words can express, I'd have given anything for her to know what a major part of life she actually was. “ My Mother-in-law is an amazing and strong person in my eyes. She raised an amazing family that I am very lucky to know and be part of. I loved to hear her laugh and loved seeing the love my husband and her shared between eachother. It was inspiratinal to say the least. I know that Susan has helped so many in her life. I am lucky to have learned such a good lesson at such an early age. And because of her, I will spend every chance I can with loved ones because that's what matters in life. I owe all of those moments in the future to her. Thank you, Mom for being the person you were. I don't know what I would have done without the times we did get to share together. Prayers from the deepest part of my heart for the family and my husband.
