“Txiv - Yuav nco koj ib sim neej. Ua tsaug txhua yam koj tau ua rau peb. Our life with you felt like the perfect fairy tale - you filled all of our missing gaps with love and joy. Even if we were just your step children and son in law, you really taught us the true meaning of love and how to love whether blood or not. You never isolated us nor treated anyone higher than the other and always took good care of us no matter how far we lived from each other. I hope that you have fulfilled all that you have missed along the way. May angels guide you home away from this not-so nice world where you will only find richness in love, wealth, and prosperity in your next life. You will always live in our hearts forever. It has been our honor to have had you in our lives. As one chapter closes, another one opens; We cant wait to start our new chapter in life with our new siblings who will dearly remind us of you every time they smile. We will MISS YOU so much.
